

Product Description

The XYSFitness 55 cm , 65cm and 75cm diameter massage ball is designed for precision targeting of difficult muscle groups and pressure points in areas like the feet, hands, and neck.

The XYSFitness Massage Ball is made from explosion-proof PVC material and is water resistant. It can be used on any smooth surface before or after a workout, or even in your spare time throughout a work day, thanks to its convenient size and portability. Over time, the deep tissue massaging effect and myofascial release created by the massage ball can help reduce knots and muscle soreness, improve balance and flexibility, and help prevent the risk of more serious injuries.

When it comes to fitness equipment, there's little that works your whole body better. To stay on the ball - you're forced to engage all your muscles, which builds strength and improves stability. A workout with an exercise ball can be a beneficial way to help improve muscle tone and balance. Exercises are easier on a softer ball, and you may have less difficulty maintaining your balance. A fully inflated fitness ball should be quite firm and require you to fully engage your muscles to stay upright. Sizes based upon height are approximate. If you are near a division, you could opt to go either way.
