

Product Specification:

A wall mounted barbell holder is a piece of equipment that is used to store barbells on a wall. It is typically made of steel or other durable materials and is designed to hold multiple barbells securely in place. The holder is mounted to the wall using screws or bolts and can be installed in a home gym, commercial gym, or other fitness facility. The holder is a great way to keep barbells organized and off the floor, which can help prevent accidents and injuries. It also helps to save space in a gym or workout area, as the barbells can be stored vertically on the wall.
